Annual Review

March 2021 – As we all continue to endure the pandemic, it's encouraging to see light at the end of the tunnel. We look forward to the day when we can collaborate side-by-side again. While 2020 impacted us all in many different ways, we continued to act for our clients in distinctive and transformational matters. We are proud of the results we have been able to achieve together – perhaps a bit more this year – when, despite all odds, all of you made it possible for us to work with you on such challenging matters in particularly challenging times. We remain grateful to our clients and all of our team members for coming through this together.
