June 7, 2021 – We are pleased to announce that Hughes Hubbard has been invited to join The Conference Board ESG Center as the go-to firm on sustainability issues. This new relationship focuses not only on environmental sustainability, but also business sustainability, as well as corporate compliance and enforcement.

The Conference Board has been the leading non-partisan think tank by and for corporations for over 100 years. Its mission is to help corporate leaders navigate the biggest issues impacting business and better serve society. Its members are the leading and largest companies in the U.S. and the world, including many of HHR's clients. The people who participate on behalf of its member companies are the Board members, CEOs, COOs, CCOs, CROs, and General Counsel.

Partners Alexandra Poe and Bryan Sillaman are leading the effort on behalf of the firm, with assistance from partners Andrew Fowler, Laura Perkins and Terence Healy.
