
Hughes Hubbard & Reed

In Competition Policy International: Don't Slice the Gordian Knot: Untangling Privilege Protection for Leniency Applicants

Articles & Press

Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP • A New York Limited Liability Partnership
One Battery Park Plaza • New York, New York 10004-1482 • +1 (212) 837-6000

Attorney advertising. Readers are advised that prior results do not guarantee a similar outcome. No aspect of this advertisement has been approved by the Supreme Court of New Jersey. For information regarding the selection process of awards, please visit <https://www.hugheshubbard.com/legal-notices-methodologies>.

January 29, 2019 – The article, “Don't Slice the Gordian Knot: Untangling Privilege Protection for Leniency Applicants,” by Robert Bell and Amanda Butler, was published in Competition Policy International. In it, they examine the ability to maintain the privileged status of communications between counsel and client even when counsel discloses the substance of those communications to the Antitrust Division in the necessary course of obtaining a marker for amnesty and perfecting the leniency application.

Click here to view full article.

Related People

Robert B. Bell

Amanda L. Butler

Related Areas of Focus

Antitrust & Competition